How many times does your wife pester you in a day? Or, how often do you hear your husband telling you to “stop being such a nag”? Nagging is recognized as a form of interpersonal communication and considered a form of persistent persuasion. It is known to involve two people: the target and the persuader. The act of nagging has proven itself to be an ineffective method of communication in familial relationships. Acting as both a major cause of stress and a potential ender of marriages, nagging is a habit that women should throw out the window. Nagging pushes people away and creates resentment; it disrupts the natural flow of communication, making home life incredibly difficult. If you're ready to stop nagging (or stop being nagged at), then let's get started!
