Stopping the Aging Gene: What Happens if the Human Race Stops Aging and Lives Forever? Robert T Gasperson

I'd say most people believe they'll live to be 80 or 90 years old. They hope they will live happy and healthy lives all the way up to 100 years old or more.

What would it be like if someone discovered the aging gene and a way to stop the aging process altogether. What would happen if people just stopped getting older. What would happen if people stopped aging and stopped dying of old age.

According to the Bible, early human beings lived 600 and 700 years. What if we found a way to live that long again. With the number of people in the world, and close to a hundred thousand new people born every year, would we be able to survive?
